Ko te tūmanako ia kua tau te rangimārie ki runga i a koe me tō whānau (I hope you and your family are well and at peace).

2020 presented the world with challenges that have affected the way in which we live and now operate brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic. He Ara Māori ACP Committee were unable to achieve some of the tasks that we had set out for ourselves in 2020 as a consequence. This included the postponement of a kanohi-ki-te-kanohi (face-to-face) hui (gathering), the completion of the graphic design work for the HAMACP booklet and the launch of the booklet. These tasks will be organised around the 2021 calendar. We have learnt and continue to learn and adapt, and no doubt we will find this year filled with opportunities and challenges. We have seen this already with the initiation of the COVID-19 alert levels currently in place across Aotearoa. We were fortunate to meet with te Runaanga o Waka Oranga more recently on 13-14 February 2021, giving us the opportunity to reflect and re-envision our plans for HAMACP 2021 and fill our hearts and minds with renewed optimism.

On behalf of the He Ara Māori ACP I can report that we currently have one new member on the pathway. Louise Ihimaera comes to us with a strong background in whānau, hapū and iwi health development, child mental health, community development, social work and counselling practice. Her current mentor is Margaret Poutu Morice assisted by members of the HAMACP Committee and te Runanaga o Waka Oranga.

We are looking to increase the number of committee members from three to five with the view of having a Te Waipounamu representative join us on the committee.

For some time now, Waka Oranga have discussed and considered the importance and benefits of effective group supervision and what this might look like moving forward. We envisage that this development would sit within HAMACP, offering the opportunity for Māori psychotherapy practitioners to engage in peer supervision and support over and above the individual supervision they currently receive. We look forward to bringing more news about this development in our next report. This development signals another milestone in our HAMACP hikoi.

The HAMACP Committee would like to acknowledge everyone who supports our kaupapa.

Kia whaia te iti kahurangi me tuoho koe me he maunga teitei
